A BAMBOO LEGACY

At House of Bamboo®, we are carrying on a legacy that was founded last century, when Mark Snyders first began to source environmentally conscious bamboo. Recognised globally as a leading bamboo specialist, we are committed to creating beautiful, environmentally friendly bamboo products and encouraging Australians to embrace the benefits of bamboo.

A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

In addition to being House of Bamboo® CEO, Jennifer Snyders also pursues her passion for sustainability by advocating bamboo projects throughout Australia and supporting land regeneration and reforestation.

Having qualified at UNSW with a Bachelor of Science (Architecture), she understands the incredible potential of bamboo and her sense of design and technical understanding has allowed her to develop a range of engineered bamboo products that can out perform timber.
